Executive Order on Tackling the Climate Crisis at Home and Abroad | The White House

If you want to see an extensive and well-presented to-do list, check out President Biden's Executive Order from January 27, 2021 using the link below. Every planner, project manager and administrator can benefit from reviewing this document. It is an object lesson in action planning and getting started quickly on a new job; remember, Inauguration Day was January 20th. The fact that it comprehensively addresses global climate change is a bonus.
